

Drums of War

Words and music by: Adalyde Heloyz la Cantora (Courtney Lewis)

Verse: We trav - el far and wide To raise our weap - ons high To hear the bat - tle cry of Chorus: Do you hear the Drums of War? Do you hear the bat - tle cry? Do you see the stream of ar - mor war - ring Ca - lon - tir We strap our ar - mor on And we war all day long Flow - ing down the hill? Are you ready for the war To win the break of dawn?

Then we gath - er round the burning bard - ic fire
Do you hear the Drums of War?

We travel far and wide
To raise our weapons up on high
To hear the battle cry of warring Calontir
We strap our armor on
And we war all day long
Then we gather round the burning bardic fire

Chorus

*Do you hear the drums of war?
Do you hear the battle cry?
Do you see the stream of armor flowing down the hill?
Are you ready for the war to win the break of dawn?
Do you hear the drums of war?*

So you broke your sword
Here you can borrow mine
Then we can share a cider around the flames tonight
For I have a lover
That I am bound to see
Just make sure you get my sword back to me

Chorus

I stand with my brothers
Ready for any moment's charge
We stand and we plan for our attack
We're hot and we're sweaty
But we're ready for a war
So we'll fight and we'll fight to the death

Chorus

Well now the fighting's over
And the feast was eaten well
And I've gone to see my lover and get me back my sword
So here we are standing
Side by side around the flames . . .
Tomorrow, I wish to do it all again

Chorus (may be repeated if so pleased)
